NECKLACE MYSTERY.

No Trace of Pearls
Lost at Ball.

Miss Crocker Goes Over
Every Incident of Evening Without Result.

Remembers Having Jewels at Midnight Supper, and That Is All.

Prying of Detectives Into Case Promises More Excitement.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That she lost her $50,000 pearl necklace in the supper room, and not while dancing at the Colonial ball, at the St. Francis Hotel,
Tuesday night, is the belief of Miss Jennie Crocker. The detectives working on the case are inclined to the same view.
Miss Crocker returned to the city
today and went into consultation with the detectives who are working upon the case. She went over with the detectives her every movement from the time she left San Mateo, Tuesday afternoon, wearing the necklace, until she discovered its loss early Wednesday morning.
To the best of her recollection she gave the detectives the names of every person with whom she danced at the ball. She told of those with whom she had mingled. The names of those with whom she had supper were also given to the officers.
The loss of the necklace is one of the greatest sensations in years among the exclusive set. While, of course, it has not been stated that it is believed the jewels were stolen, nevertheless those attending the ball will be very much
relieved when the necklace is returned.
The prying of the detectives working on the case will be very distressful to many.
"There is very little more I can tell
about the loss of my necklace," said Miss Crocker, with a shrug, at her shoulders. "I know that I had my necklace on at supper, about midnight,
as I felt for it and it was there."
"I do not remember having felt for the necklace any more until, at the close of the ball, I went to my room
to retire for the night. I missed the jewels and immediately notified the hotel authorities and we began a search."
"I put on the necklace at San Mateo.
I wore it at the dinner before the dance. I know positively that I kept it on when I changed my costume for the ball. I have an indistinct recollection that Mr. Martin chafed me about how easily my disguise could be penetrated owing to the necklace."
"I think the cord on which the pearls were strung had been broken."
"I know that it did once before, but I detected it at the time. I was talking to my maid about this and she told me that the pearls were resting two or three months ago."
The reward has not been placed at a definite figure. Miss Crocker says that it will be a very liberal one, but upon advice of the detectives is not announcing the exact figure.
"You can say that the reward will be a very liberal one," said Henry T.
Scott. "We do not care to announce the exact amount, but any person who is well rewarded who returns the jewels."

PICKING UP THE DISCARD.

Brothers Divorce Wives and Later Unwittingly Exchange
in Second Marriages.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)
DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 25.—
When H. P. Hull of Denver
went to Norfolk, Neb., a few days ago to attend the funeral of his brother, Philip Hull, he made the discovery that the widow of his brother had divorced some time previously.
The widow-divorcee also made a discovery. She learned that the wife of her first husband,
H. P. Hull, was also the divorcee first wife of her late husband, Philip. In other words,
each of the brothers had been divorced and each had married
the other's divorced wife, although none of the four parties
to the ceremonies were aware of the fact.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)
NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Feb. 25.—After nearly two days under searching cross-examination, Col. Duncan
B. Cooper was surrendered to his own counsel tonight by the State.
Tomorrow the case against the Coopers and John Sharpe, accused of the murder of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack, will be reopened with the aged defendant still on the stand.
His counsel has decided that a brief
direct examination.
Gov. Patterson and his Adjutant-General, Col. Tully Brown, will be called to tell what part they played
in this political tragedy.
It was thought last night that the limit in cross had been reached in attendance at the trial, but the throng
that surrounded the jail building almost before dawn today made the other crowds look like a mere handful. The deputies at times had to use force to keep the eager men and women
from pushing into the courtroom.
The cause Besse Devoe exhibited a well-defined rumor that Gov. Paterson would take the stand on behalf of the defendants as soon as Col. Cooper was excused.
ARGUMENT CUT SHORT.
As soon as court was opened, Judge
Hart announced that he would exclude the Lanet editorial which the State had offered to prove that the Lanet, in which Col. Cooper is interested, printed the original charges against Gov. Cox, which, when repeated by Carmack in the Tennesseean, caused Col. Cooper to say that either
he or Carmack must die.
"Do you want to hear any more
argument?" inquired States' counsel.
Hart came down the judge's gavel.
"I am not going to let you hear any more, but I don't propose to do so,
unless some attorney feels as though
he will die unless he gets the speech
out of his system. I want to say that the lengthy argument must stop. We are wasting the public's time."
Col. Cooper again took the stand and Capt. Fitzhugh resumed the cross-examination, continuing with the State debate between Carmack and Patterson during the last governmental campaign.
The witness was asked if the Nashville papers did not report this debate
in full and if he ever read of Carmack's attack upon him in the American. He said he had not read it, but he believed the papers did not publish it.
"Didn't you say he attacked you
nearly every day in this debate?"
"I said practically every day,"
"Do you remember what he said?"
"I can refer to my notes and tell."
"You have notes?" "Yes, sir."
"Where did you get them?" "From the stenographer who took the debates."
"Did you get these notes since the trial
began?" "Yes, sir."
"Who else told you of the attacks?"

HUNTER KEEPS GOLF HONORS.

Chicago Expert Remains Best Player in South.

Nat Wilshire Loses Title by His Worst Game.

Local Man Is Weak on Putts and Approaches.

Paul Hunter of the Annandale Golf Club defeated Nat Wilshire of the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday in the final of the men's amateur championship of Southern California, at the Annandale course, by the lopsided score of 11 up and 10 to play, and the whole story of the beating is told by the poor short shots of Wilshire.

Paul Hunter, Southern California Amateur Golf Champion, who won the title for the year in the final of the tournament, which was completed yesterday at the Annandale Country Club.

Hunter thus retained the championship he won last year. A large gallery of interested spectators followed the players in both the morning and afternoon rounds of 36 holes and while the general opinion was that young Hunter would win, the enthusiasts were not prepared for the fearful fall-down of the local player. Wilshire was away off his regular game and those who have watched him play many fine matches on the Los Angeles course could not account for his poor showing.

His long game was up to his standard, but it seemed that he could not make a short shot. Both his approaches and putts were bad and when he missed fire on several short putts in the morning round he lost his nerve on the green and could not find it again, although on the final six or eight holes he came to himself and beat Hunter home, 2 up and 1 to play, after the championship was lost beyond recall. Wilshire's game on the first round may be imagined when it is stated that at the end of the morning round of 18 holes Hunter led by 3 up and with his steady, consistent style of play the gallery knew it was a foregone conclusion that he would win with the kind of game he showed yesterday it would have required a high-class professional to have beaten the young champion.

ALL HUNTER. The match needs no description, for with Wilshire being unable to approach or putt it was practically all Hunter. He did not fall back in the afternoon and was right "there" ready for anything. Wilshire stalled off after lunch by winning the nineteenth hole, but he lost the twentieth. They played the twenty-first and twenty-second; then they each won and lost one and then Hunter won two and the match.

They kept on with the string to the finish and in the bye holes Wilshire more than held his own, but it was too late. To some it might have appeared that Hunter eased up after he had won the match but this is unlikely, for he is a natural golfer and seemingly plays every hole with what might be called an automatic desire to win, not particularly for the lust of victory but for the satisfaction of doing good work well.

It is no disgrace to be beaten by such a gentlemanly little sport, for he beats everyone and Wilshire's poor showing, while a surprise to himself more than to any one, merely shows that it was not his day to play in the final of a championship.

In addition to the championship the finals of the matches for beaten men were played and the results were as follows: E. B. Williams of the Annandale Club beat A. H. Braly of the Los Angeles Country Club, 4 up and 3 to play, in the second eight of the championship; E. S. Armstrong of the Coronado Club defeated W. S. Miller of the Los Angeles Club, by 2 up in the first eight of the second sixteen, and W. Cooley of the Los Angeles Club beat H. Whipple of the Victoria Club of Riverside, 2 up and 1 to play in the second eight of the second sixteen, CONSOLATION EVENT.

Twenty-two cards had been turned in by 2 o'clock in the consolation event at handtrap match play against bogey, arranged for players who had not won a prize and the four prizes were won by the following: First, H. B. Wren; second, E. A. Robinson; third, S. M. Harding; fourth, E. N. Wright, fourth.

Wren finished up with a record of three men were tied at 2 up and they determined their positions by drawing lots. With a bogey "out" of 20 and "in" of 41, or a total of 61, the scores were as follows:

Player	Out	In	Total
H. B. Wren	20	41	61
E. A. Robinson	21	40	61
S. M. Harding	22	39	61
E. N. Wright	23	38	61

VERNON PLAYERS IN WHITE SOX SPECIAL.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ball players by the score reported at the office of the Chicago American League club today. It was reported that for the White Sox, who are to leave tomorrow night on a special train for California, on their spring training trip. Many players who will be seen on the Coast clubs this year also showed up for passage to their various cities, and Tip O'Neill, who is master of ceremonies, had a busy time assigning them berths.

O'Neill tried to classify and count them, but the job was too much for him. "As near as I can make it out," said he, "I have here Tennant, Burrell, Loomis, Kelly, Eastler, assigned to the San Francisco club; Harmon, Brezette, Christian and Tonneson, assigned to Oakland; Blair, Murphy, Cameron, Koestner, Godwin and Howard, to go to Los Angeles; three assorted players for the Vernon team, and six miscellaneous young men for the other clubs of that region."

HOGAN'S BUNCH. The Vernon ball team announced yesterday that he had signed, or rather secured, two new pitchers who are expected to make a mark in this league. They are:

SETS NEW RECORDS.

SHRUBB WINS EASILY FROM DORANDO PIETRI.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.), Feb. 25.—Alfred Shrubb easily defeated Dorando Pietri in a fifteen-mile race here tonight. His time was 1h. 24min. 54-sec.

Every American indoor record in such a race was smashed. Tom Longboat was to have run against Shrubb, but failed to appear. Shrubb was disappointed, but the fear that he would not get a contest of any kind was dispelled when Pietri arrived ready for a race and glad to get on with Shrubb under any conditions. Shrubb ruled a 7-to-10 favorite.

The runners were sent away to a good start at 8:11 o'clock. There was a hot contest in the first lap for leadership, the Italian leading to the tape by a yard. Shrubb sprinted in the second lap, passing Dorando and leading in the third lap by two yards. He remained in the lead throughout the remainder of the race.

HAYES COMES BACK. TO MEET HIS CONQUEROR. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—John Hayes, who had his fame as a Marathon runner snatched from him by Dorando Pietri, when the Italian first landed in this country, and who has since dropped from public notice to a considerable extent as a result of subsequent races in which he did not figure, will have another chance to retrieve his lost laurels. Hayes has posted a forfeit of $1000 to meet Dorando for the full distance in Madison Square Garden at a date soon to be selected, and a like amount has been posted for the Italian. Hayes says he is in good condition.

Roberts, back; Maj. Rotherham, No. 2; Frank J. Mackey, No. 2; F. D. Hudson, No. 1.

On the "Red" team Daniel Ross played back; F. A. Gill, No. 2; H. Lett, No. 2 and 2nd. Ross, who has since dropped from public notice to a considerable extent as a result of subsequent races in which he did not figure, will have another chance to retrieve his lost laurels.

The Riverside men played a faster game than in the championship match for the Mackey cup Monday, and brilliant plays in quick succession on both sides kept the enthusiasm of the spectators at a high pitch. The concluding match in the week's tournament will be played at Concord Park Friday afternoon.

FIVE ROUNDS FOR THOMAS.

Kelly Thumps Californian in the Midriff.

Italian Wonder Slams His Man Over Ring.

First Show for Months by Jeffries Club.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hugo Kelly easily beat Joe Thomas in the fifth round of what was to have been a ten-round bout at Fairmount Athletic Club here tonight, only the intervention of the referee saving Thomas from a knockout. He was struggling to arise, after being knocked down, in the fifth round, when the referee motioned Kelly to his corner, and ended the bout.

Thomas was able to slip and duck Hugo's lead for the head early in the bout, but he could not get his midriff out of the way. Kelly put up a steady battle from the start, and by continually slugging right and left into the body he wore Thomas down. Joe's end came as the body punching told. In the fourth, when Kelly sent a punch for the stomach, Thomas sounded like the beat of a drum, the floor was in sight. Thomas hit the floor for the count of six, a moment later from right he landed a more powerful punch in the stomach, doubling him over as he arose, and this time he remained down for eight.

JEFF CLUB BUSY. The Jeffries Athletic Club will give its first show for months in the Vernon arena tonight, when Ad Wolgast and Walter Little will meet for twenty rounds as a main event. Wolgast is well known, having fought Danny Webster twice and Abe Attel once in this city, but Little is an unknown quantity here. He comes with a good reputation as having fought Dick Reuter of Honolulu, who is recommended by Pitcher Bill Burns. Hogan called the boy and got an answer that he had signed with one of the outlaws State League team, but Hogan may get him after all. Shafer is in this city at present and will report for practice next Monday.

The new ball park at Vernon is a busy place these days and it is expected that the rejuvenated plant will be ready for the club about the latter part of next week. The left-field bleachers are completed, and work on the grand stand is being rushed, while the new clubhouse is already finished.

To represent his new park, Hogan announced last night that the line-up of his team would be about as follows: Hogan and Kinkel, catchers; Coy, Anis, Thomas, Stovall, Shafer, Bateman, Brackner and probably Reuter, pitchers; Brashear, first base; Graham and Haley, second base; Mott, third base; Truck Eagan, shortstop; Martinko, left field; Goodman, center field, and probably Devoy, right field. Devoy would like to play on the Coast, but his mother objects, for it is said that he is a little bit of a trouble maker and is overrun with savages. Hogan hopes to change the mother's mind.

Rube Ellis is still at home in the Whittier country, according to report, and is holding out for a raise in salary from what St. Louis offered him. A contract was sent him, which he says he returned.

QUAKERS ARE DISCOURAGED. Figure That Only Two Men May Win First Place While Few Others Will Show.

The last work for the Quakers has been done and the local lads await the meet with U.S.C. in poorer condition than for any meet in the last three years.

Coach Ratcliffe is very dubious over the outcome and plainly showed his disappointment at the showing made in the practice meet last Tuesday.

The hope sheet does not give Whittier more than two firsts—Capt. White in the two-mile and Mills in the half. It is very doubtful if Mills will annex this mile, as the best time he has made in practice has been 5 min. 43 sec., and it will be well nigh impossible for him to cut off a minute from this time.

White is in fairly good condition, but shows signs of overtraining. Although the two-mile was run in slow time in the intermediate meet, he was all in at the finish and was not able to sprint the last 200 yards.

Ray Marshall, who has been forced to drop track on account of his work, will surely cripple the Quakers in the 220 yard dash. Marshall won the 220 last Tuesday, and ran the fastest lap of the relay, besides winning second in the shot put. It will be absolutely impossible to replace him, as there is not another man who can fill his place on the relay team.

"Little" Reneker will not be seen in the hurdles in the U.S.C. meet, although he is the best hurdler on the team. The pressure of outside duties has forced him to choose between track and baseball, and as he is captain of the baseball team he threw track over. He won third place in the high hurdles at last year's conference meet, and should do much better this year. He negotiated the high sticks in 16 3-5 sec. in practice recently, and is showing form in the low hurdles.

There is not a man among the Quakers who will be able to do anything in the sprints against the U.S.C. athletes, nor do very many seconds and yards of the field event team seem available. Short may do something in the high jump, and "Big" Reneker may place in the hammer and shot, but is somewhat doubtful.

Unless the Quakers take a decided break before the conference meet they are a long way from being competitive. The Stanford girls' basketball team on the local school's court. The game was one of the most exciting seen here for some time, and was by far the hardest the local team has played this season. The Stanford girls, with their pretty, but ineffective team work in which their chief play was low passing, were no match for the Normalites, who made a specialty this year of throwing long and strong. Stanford was allowed no field and but two free throws. Normal got two field and two free goals. With the defeat of the University of California Monday, and Stanford today, the local Normal is now probably Coast champion.

NEW MAJOR LEAGUE IS BEING PLANNED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to an American Association magnate, Kansas City will be relegated to the Western League after the close of the coming season. It is planned to merge the American Association and the Eastern League, and as a consequence Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee will be dropped. A third major league will be formed with the following cities in the circuit: Louisville, Indianapolis, Columbus and Toledo from the American Association; Baltimore, Providence, Newark and Buffalo from the Eastern League; Joseph D. O'Brien is slated for the presidency of the new organization.

"While we all know that Kansas City is one of the best cities in the American Association," said an A. A. magnate, "it is outside of the district and must be dropped. In order to have a compact circuit, we must take in the four teams in the eastern end of the circuit. You will notice that these teams are all in the Western League, while he is doing very little here. When the coming season opens Louisville will have one of the best baseball parks in the country."

Shay Helps the Trust. STOCKTON, Feb. 25.—Dan Shay, manager of the Stock State League team, received a dispatch today from M. S. Robinson, owner of the St. Louis club, stating the terms made by Shay with Enright of the Sacramento State League team, were satisfactory. Enright has an iron-bound contract, and a ticket has been wired him. He will start for Little Rock on Monday.

Catcher Rittler Released. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Louis Rittler of the Brooklyn National League team, was released today, and the old-time catcher will go to the minors, going to the Denver Western League team. George E. Brown, the Boston right fielder, was transferred to Chicago. These releases were promulgated by John Heydler, acting president of the National League.

WRESTLING TOURNAMENT. Amateurs to Contest in March for the Championships of Southern California.

March 10 is the date set for the Southern California championship wrestling tournament. The event will be pulled off under the sanction of the P. A. A. in the gymnasium of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Charley Eytan will probably be referee.

Al Treloar, physical instructor at the athletic club, is bending every effort to make the affair a grand success, and hopes to have a big representation of wrestlers from all parts of the southern end of the State.

The rejuvenated Jeffries Athletic Club will give its first show for months in the Vernon arena tonight, when Ad Wolgast and Walter Little will meet for twenty rounds as a main event. Wolgast is well known, having fought Danny Webster twice and Abe Attel once in this city, but Little is an unknown quantity here. Wise Talks By The "Office Boy" I heard a man say the other day that the difference between a job and a situation, is a situation, the man, who calls it a situation, wears cuffs while at work. Most every fellow, who has a job, pays for superintendence and inspection. Some pay more and some pay less. That is in a way, a half-and-half-way more would receive $250, and it not for the fact that some one had to think for him, after him and supply the rest of his earnings power, the result is, he contributes in support of those who superintend him. Make no mistake about this. Incompetence and discrimination require supervision, and they pay for it and no one else does. The less you require looking after, the more able you are to stand alone and complete your tasks and the greater your reward. Did you ever stop to figure what you are worth? What amount of your earning power represents it? Say 6 per cent. If you earn $2 a day, you are worth $10,400.00. If you are able to do your own thinking and have no one to think for you, you soon increase your capital by twenty or thirty thousand and so on. Our salesmen are all thinkers. They are specialists in their line. They select goods themselves that they sell to you, and can tell you all about them from the raw materials through all the processes of manufacture. You'll like them fully well. They're as kind and obliging and take so much pleasure in your property and pleasure, and their share is in the price. No fooling. Just old-fashioned, simple, straightforward way. It is the wood way. It is the only way. Either store.

COMPLETED. MACVEAGH IN TAFT CABINET CHICAGO FINANCIER HAS GIVEN PORTFOLIO.

Official Announcement Has Not Been Made, but It Is Known That Mr. MacVeagh Has Chosen His Adviser. Working on Magazine Articles to Avoid Vicious.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—All quotations of uncertainty in the presidential campaign have been selected by Mr. Taft as Secretary of Treasury, are moved.

Mr. MacVeagh, it was learned tonight, accepted the place vacated by Mr. Taft. The cabinet was not complete, as heretofore announced by the Associated Press. No official or unofficial declaration of Mr. MacVeagh's appointment was made by Mr. Taft until he promised his entire services.

Mr. Taft said a number of New York City financiers during the day said the calls were to express friendship and had no other significance.

President-elect Taft devoted today to the completion of several messages which he agreed some time ago to write. Mr. Taft expected to remain throughout the day at the home of his brother, Howard, at 280 Madison Avenue, where he was surrounded by a throng of admirers.

Mr. Taft took occasion today to complete the letter which she had here to do last week. She will arrive at an address at the dinner Friday night at the Elgin Hotel, and Mrs. Taft will take an early train for Washington Saturday.

Mr. Taft's cabinet, completed with the selection of Mr. MacVeagh, follows:

Secretary of State—Philander C. Kellogg, Pennsylvania.
Secretary of Treasury—Franklin D. MacVeagh, Illinois.
Secretary of War—Jacob M. Dickenson, Tennessee.
Attorney-General—George W. Wickham, New York.
Postmaster-General—Frank H. Parker, Massachusetts.
Secretary of Navy—Richard von L. Benckwiese, Massachusetts.

McDONALD CO-RESPONDENT. Accused of Killing Artist. Business Agent.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Myrtle E. Goodrich today filed suit for divorce from Benjamin Goodrich, naming Mrs. McDonald, widow of Michael C. McDonald, the woman of the killing of Arthur Webb, as co-defendant.

Goodrich was in jail when the suit was filed, charged with the embezzlement of about $5000 from Mrs. McDonald's safety deposit vault, to which he had access as her business agent. Goodrich had been in the hands of Mrs. McDonald for two months when she was arrested from Houston, Texas, on a charge of embezzlement.

Goodrich was arrested on June 16, 1926, when Mrs. McDonald, his wife, was in the city. On May 31, 1928, she came into the city and Mrs. McDonald, her mother, and together, and hotel registers reflect his arrest. Goodrich was a numerous young business man.

NEW RAILWAY HELPS TUCSON.
TRAFFIC INTO SONORA PROVES OF BENEFIT.
Proposed Cut-off to Nogales Expected to Add to Advantages of Both Towns—Perpetual Springs Struck in Canal—Blizzard in Catalina Mountains Stops Travel.
[RECAPITULATION OF THE TIMES]
TUCSON, Feb. 24.—Owing to its position at the end of the run of the special Nogales-Tucson train service, this city is receiving the benefit of a large traffic into Sonora, as passengers prefer to stop at this point rather than at Benson. Here also are the headquarters of the Randolph system of railroads, including the Sonora road and the road now being built down the west coast of Mexico. It is understood that among the plans of the Southern Pacific are included a short-cut road from this city direct to Nogales, something that would save a hundred miles of travel, besides cutting down the grades on the main line into Sonora. Nogales also is expected much benefit from railroad development of Sonora, of which she is the gateway, and the Board of Trade of that city has published a pamphlet showing the advantages of the town in its control of the traffic. Nogales is deeply interested also in a project for securing a water storage dam on the Santa Cruz River, and is asking that the flow of the stream be gauged, to provide data for the reclamation service.
An old discovery was made last week near Benson, where a new canal is being dug for the irrigation of land near the town. Only 500 feet from the head of the canal has been found an extraordinary spring of water, which gushes out into the canal in apparently unending supply. It is believed that the water comes from the Dragoon mountains in an underground channel and that it has nothing to do with the San Pedro River, which was to have been drawn upon for water for the canal.
A new gambling ordinance has been passed by the city of Tucson covering almost every possible form of games of chance and prohibiting, even the shaking of dice for the claps and drinks.
BLIZZARD IN MOUNTAINS.
The heaviest snowfall of the year occurred Sunday in the Catalina Mountains north and northeast of Tucson, accompanied by a blizzard that made travel almost impossible.
Monday morning Leslie Tillman, one of the best-known young men of Globe, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had signed a number of checks without funds in the bank to meet them and had become desperate over his situation.
An old trapper named Phillips was struck by a runaway team in Clifton last Sunday and almost instantly killed, his skull being crushed.
Alfred Middleton was killed a few days ago near Globe by the caving of a well in which he was working. He was a member of one of the oldest families of Gila county, a family which has a history of bloodshed and accident. His father was drowned in Pinal Creek in 1891, a brother was killed in a sawmill in Washington and three brothers were wounded at different times by Apaches on the family stock ranch near Pleasant Valley. Eugene Middleton in 1889 was very seriously wounded and was left for dead by the famous Apache Kid, when the Kid escaped from the officers near Riverside, Pinal county, while being taken to the penitentiary to serve a sentence for murder.

THE STOMACH OF THE CHILD
Is the Organ All Parents Should Protect and Keep Normal.

The stomach of a child is the organ above all others upon which the future of a child depends. Bodily development is fast in children, and the nourishment necessary to meet such development is the one essential demand from a parent. Most mothers and fathers, however, guard a child from the formation of bad habits, yet in this age our children early become the victims of wrong food, over-eating and irregular meals.
It is most important to know the effect of stomach troubles among our children.
Most children who are nervous, irritable and cross, who dream, sleep restlessly, who tire easily and have no desire for child exercise, generally have stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are intended to thoroughly digest food and to place the system in shape to obtain all the nourishment it needs from such food.
These tablets mix with the juices of the system, enriching them and giving to the body the ingredients necessary to build up the rapidly forming brain and body of the young.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be given to children after each meal and at bed time. They are made from pure vegetable and fruit essences, and contain no harmful chemicals whatsoever. The use of these tablets will give greater vim to a child in its school work or at its play. They will purify the appetite and soothe the nerves, destroy abnormal cravings, and will allay the bad effects of sweets and such improper foods as most children enjoy and will eat no matter what is done to prevent it.
It is due to the child that his stomach be protected by the parents, and if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are given after meals the habits of the child will not tear down the stomach and destroy the digestive juices nearly as rapidly.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are given to each and every degree of life. Any condition of the stomach weakens them, from the strongest to the weakest. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents. Send us your name and address today and we will mail you a trial packet of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets free. Address P. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ADRIAN'S FLAG COMING DOWN.
Admiral Expected to Give up His Command at Early Day for President's Successor.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.]
PORT MONROE (Va.) Feb. 25.—Admiral Charles S. Sperry left tonight for Washington, and the ship's carpenter on board the flagship Connecticut began to box up the Admiral's belongings. The impression grows that Admiral Sperry soon will hand down his flag.
It is common gossip in the fleet that President Roosevelt intends to name the next commander-in-chief before he retires from office next Thursday.

OLDEST OF NATIVE SONS.
San Jose Man of Ninety-five Lived Under Three Flags.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN JOSE, Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nicholas Antonio Berres, 95 years old, and believed the oldest native Californian, died at his home in this city yesterday from general debility.
He lived under three flags in California, the Spanish, Mexican and American. He was born in San Jose in 1814. His father served years as a soldier of Spain in this country, and three under the Mexican flag. He himself fought against Fremont under Castro.
For his services to the Spanish government, the elder Berres was given a grant of land, comprising all the territory northeast of the city, and considerably more than is now known as the Berreses district, which bears his name.
In some manner the deeds and papers given him by the Spanish government were lost by the son, and when American squatters came he was unable to prove his claim.

PHOENIX SANDS ARE VERY HOT.
WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY Largely Devoted to Masonic Festivities—Council Committee Finds That Electric Rates Are Much Higher Than in California Towns of Same Size.
[RECAPITULATION OF THE TIMES.]
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 25.—In their celebration of Washington's Birthday the citizens of Phoenix were assisted by hundreds of visitors from all over the Territory. The hotels are crowded as they have never been before, unless it were at fair time. Much of the influx is due to the Legislature, which resumed its sessions this morning. But Masons were on hand from every town in the Southwest to assist in the initiation of the largest class of candidates ever known to El Zarah Temple, members of the Mystic Shrine. The unhappy neophytes were herded around the town all day by Shrines gifted with alcoholic invention. President Hunt of the Legislative Council judges it as possibly the most disgraceful victim at hand, was made to dress as a coal heaver, to sweep the muddy streets, to drive a hack, to wear a "merry widow" hat, a rife costume, and a dreadful coloring, plus a shawl skirt of most unseemly cut, and finally was tied hand and foot and thrown down a toboggan slide into a cellar.
The parade was a Roman chariot on moving machine wheels, drawn by four rather headstrong burros. Tonight will be held the annual ball of the Shrines.
The main celebration of the day was under the auspices of the Illinois Society, held at the Illinois school and attended by hundreds of ex-residents of Illinois. The main address was by Judge J. H. Finney.
Eleven members of the El Zarah Temple, captained by W. H. Agar, spent yesterday in a rife contest of the four companies of the National Guard in this valley. The victors won the match by 39 points. The El Zarah club thus far has been invincible, beating a rife team from the regular army at the annual meeting of the Arizona society of the Sons of the American Revolution held yesterday. J. T. Stoddard of Phoenix was elected President; Dr. F. E. Shyne of El Zarah, Vice-President; C. Leonard of Phoenix, Secretary; Lloyd B. Christy of Phoenix, Treasurer; George W. P. Hunt of Globe, Historian; J. W. Atwood, D.D., of Phoenix, Chaplain, and the following managers: Richard E. Blom, H. L. Wilson and Howard B. Reed. Lewis Halsey, D.D., and Isaac T. Stoddard were elected delegates to the annual meeting of the national society of Sons of the American Revolution.
Sunday gave an exhibition of the most extraordinary weather ever met in Phoenix. Hall covered the ground to a depth of a half inch or more in places and the hills all around the valley were covered with snow. In the snowfall that promptly began the local weather bureau observed was specially maligned. The temperature was about normal and very little damage was done either by heat or cold.
ELECTRIC RATES HIGH.
A committee appointed by the City Council to furnish information concerning electric power and light rates and conditions has just made a report. The committee investigated the rates for electric light and power in a large number of cities and gave the tabulation of results included in the list are Bakersfield, Visalia, Merced, Auburn, Stockton, Marysville and Oxnard, Cal., in which the rates per kilowatt run from 3 to 15 cents. Here the rates run as high as 20 cents and are about averaging 17 1/2 cents.
"A fair rate on this basis would be 7 cents, maximum." It is also claimed that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is earning something over 50 per cent. gross on the taxed valuation. This company is capitalized at $1,000,000 with $400,000 in paid-up stock and $300,000 common stock issued and with a funded debt of $300,000.
The committee suggests "the passage of an ordinance requiring full reports from all public utility companies and the early enactment of an ordinance fixing the rates in harmony with correct valuation and reasonable profits."

DASHING TO RESCUE BY RAIL AND SHIP.

Young New York Millionaire Starts on Swift Trip to Ensenada.

Come to Los Angeles to Rest, Hears from Friend in Prison and Determines on Immediate Relief at Any Cost—Off in Few Hours With Bundle of Money. Sails This Morning.

BRIGHT AND EARLY this morning a spic and span yacht, under the command of Theodore Van Tyne Johnston, young millionaire clubman and traveler of New York, will start out of the harbor of San Diego, and go as fast as modern engines can drive it toward Ensenada, Lower California, in an effort to furnish immediate aid to William G. Morse, that young man, the son of Prof. Morse of telegraph fame, now languishing in prison at Ensenada, charged with the murder of an Indian. His friends assert he shot this Indian in self-defense.

Yesterday morning Mr. Johnston arrived in Los Angeles. He was accompanied by his valet and a footboy of luggage. He registered at the Alexandria, and told his friends that as he was attacked by the blue god of ennui, he would do nothing in particular for a time.

About noon yesterday Mr. Johnston received a message from Ensenada.

Theodore Van Tyne Johnston, millionaire clubman of New York, who will start this morning in a chartered yacht for Ensenada to go to the relief of his friend, William G. Morse, who is confined in jail at Ensenada charged with the murder of an Indian. Sketched at his hotel yesterday by Cozen.

It told him in terse words that his bosom friend Morse is in a Mexican jail, awaiting the slow process of trial before a Mexican judge on the charge of murdering a man who had attacked him, to save his own life.

FRIENDSHIP ANSWERS.
Morse and Johnston are chums of long standing. They share eternal friendship years ago. Both are generously supplied with money, but Morse is in trouble and Morse asked for help.

Immediately the leisurely Theodore Van Tyne Johnston was spurred into strenuous life. He charged upon his bankers, and shocked them by the drawing sufficient out of the realm to bail out a light boat. Then he rushed to the telegraph office, and sent a dozen messages to his friend Morse to have no fear that he was coming.

He almost threw his valet into convulsions by leaping into his room at the Alexandria and ordering him to pack everything, and be ready to leave for parts unknown within thirty minutes. Then he again rushed to the telegraph office and wired to San Diego, where he engaged the fastest yacht in the bay, and ordered that it be provisioned for a swift but possibly extended dash south.

Which the 1:45 p.m. train on the Santa Fe pulled out of La Grande station in the afternoon, Johnston and his valet were comfortably seated, and the first stage of the rescue journey was under way.

OUTWITS HIGHWAYMEN.

Truck Driver Measures Fists Against Revolvers and Wins, but the Footpads Escape.

Though looking into the muzzle of a large-caliber revolver and running the risk of being shot, J. H. Edwards, a driver for the Diamond Coal Company, last night bravely resisted the attempt of two highwaymen to hold him up, and used his fists as weapons so forcibly that he utterly routed the bandits, and made them beat an ignominious retreat.

Edwards was driving along Banning street near Center street, when the two highwaymen climbed onto the rear of the wagon. Pointing a gun at Edwards' head, the taller of the footpads ordered the driver to throw up his hands. In response Edwards let fly a full right swing which caught the bandit fish on the jaw and sent him tumbling to the street. At the same time he yelled loudly for help.

Alarmed at the outcry and at the outcry of a woman standing on the sidewalk, the remaining robber on the wagon struck Edwards in the mouth and then jumped from the wagon to the pavement. Both the men picked themselves up quickly and disappeared in the dark down Banning street.

From a meager description given of the two men by Edwards, the police believe they are the same men who held up E. Nichols, a tourist, on Monte Vista street, Wednesday night, and robbed him of a gold watch and a small sum of money.

EXPLOSIVE.
EGGS MAY BE AMMUNITION.
WAR IS THREATENED BY LOCAL POULTRY RAISERS.

Chicken Men Appoint Committee to Arrange Mobilization of Their Forces in Three Counties—Charge Commission Dealers New Control Prices—May Sell to Retailers.

There's to be war between Los Angeles commission men and the poultry raisers and egg producers of Southern California. The gauntlet of battle was thrown down at a meeting held in Chamber of Commerce Assembly Hall last night. The "hen men" stated that it is time to end the one-sided method of marketing eggs at present prevailing. A new cooperative association is to be organized, entirely separate from the Poultry Breeders' Association of Southern California, which has little to do with the commercial aspect of the proposition.

A large committee was appointed to canvass the chicken raisers of Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside counties, and secure their aid. If the plan works out successfully, the poultry men will shortly have their own market house here, and will sell fresh eggs directly to the retailers.

It was asserted last night that the commission men have had everything their own way so far. It appears that they control the egg market at all times and that the humble raiser has to accept fixed prices.

The traffic in eggs for this city is enormous. According to quoted figures, Los Angeles pays annually $1,000,000 for eggs raised in Southern California, and an equal amount for stale "hen fruit" imported from Kansas and Iowa. Speakers last night asserted that this section is easily able to raise all the poultry and eggs that are consumed here.

Charles H. Kline of Burbank, owner of more than 3000 hens, was appointed temporary chairman. He narrated the experience of the Burbank raisers in forming an independent organization. At first the association met with much opposition and it was found that Los Angeles commission men did their best to prevent direct dealing with the growers.

He said that the association is now working successfully and he showed the experience of the Burbank raisers in forming an independent organization. At first the association met with much opposition and it was found that Los Angeles commission men did their best to prevent direct dealing with the growers.

In connection with this movement to organize the poultrymen the association had a program consisting of informal talks. L. E. Walton, the president, gave a bright address on "The Commercial Side of Poultry." He said that many novices tried to raise fancy fowls and sell the eggs at fabulous prices. It was a common experience for the amateur to advertise a setting for $5. Then he would drop the price to $1 for thirteen eggs and never would be glad to sell the eggs "at any old price."

He said that the most profitable business was raising eggs and poultry for consumption, although the rearing of fancy fowls was a fascinating pursuit. Mr. Kline followed with a breezy talk on "How Best to Market Our Eggs." He said that the raiser should not be misled by the commission men who would buy a dozen eggs for $1.50 and sell them for $2.50.

CHECK FORGER ARRESTED.
A. A. Gerson Fleeces Saloon-keeper, Confesses to Forgery—Says He "Needed the Money."
A. A. Gerson, an advertising solicitor, was arrested last night by police detectives at his home, No. 1104 West Eighth street, on the charge of passing a forged check for $12.50 on William Hever, a Spring-street saloon-keeper. When taken to Central Police Station Gerson confessed to the crime, saying as his reason that he "needed the money." Further than that he would not talk. Gerson passed the check made on the German-American Savings Bank, payable to Gerson, to Hever, who cashed it at the Cawston Street Saloon. Gerson is a man of family and lately has been out of employment.

HAPPY WHILE HE APPEALS.

Prefers Years in Jail to a Penitentiary Term.

Queer Prisoner Who Worries Court Officials.

La Pique at Last Filing His Final Petitions.

Acting as his own attorney, John La Pique, under sentence of ten years in the penitentiary for obtaining money by false pretenses, whose case is now before the Appellate Court, has proved himself a master hand in the art of procrastination also in the art of keeping every one who has any connection with his case in hot water.

While La Pique objects to the penitentiary, he does not seem to care for a new trial.

FILES MORE PETITIONS.
In his anxiety to block the action of the Appellate Court, La Pique began to file petitions with the Supreme Court during the latter part of last month. Yesterday he filed a third amended petition to prove exceptions, and a petition for a rehearing after judgment in the District Court of Appeals.

The Supreme Court denied the two previous petitions of a similar nature and will very likely deny these. But this does not worry La Pique, for he sent a deputy sheriff to the law library for another lot of legal advice in the shape of records, yesterday.

But the time is getting short, and unless La Pique can enlist the sympathy of the judges of the Appellate Court and obtain another extension of time, he will be at the end of his leash on March 3.

Realizing this, La Pique has redoubled his efforts. He has a type-writer in his cell and writes all of his own petitions, making the required number of duplicates. The merry click of his machine is a jail contrast that can be heard from morning till night.

Although a great deal of his work has been useless, he has had the distinction of creating more of a stir and keeping more court and county officials in a turmoil than any other prisoner who ever appealed a case in this county.

how long he is incarcerated in the County Jail, where he has been locked up since April 17 of last year. Since sentence was passed he has done everything possible to annoy the county officials and to delay the hearing of his case by the Court of Appeals of the Second District.

This is not the first time that La Pique has been under sentence for obtaining money by false pretenses. He was once sentenced to serve six years by a judge in San Francisco. Jauntily he began to fight the case from his cell in the County Jail there, and after eight years of persistent effort, during which he studied law constantly, he had the satisfaction of obtaining a new trial, and he escaped on a technicality.

Evidently La Pique has a similar plan in mind, for his whole time is taken up with preparing long petitions for rehearings of appeal, and for new bills of exception, all in the hope that some one will make a blunder in filing them and thus give him a loop-hole by which he can escape on a technical error.

KEEPS 'EM ON THE RUN.
The court officials and deputies in the sheriff's office are aware of this and are constantly on the alert. Knowing that this condition exists, La Pique does everything that he can to harass them. He keeps the Deputy Sheriffs and turnkeys on the run bringing books from the law library, which are not used in preparing petitions and briefs.

La Pique began this campaign when his trial was called in the Superior Court. His case was tried before Judge Jamison, though it had been filed on the docket of the late Judge Smith. Judge Jamison was not acquainted with many of the schemes practiced on the court by criminals under trial, and La Pique, quick to see his advantage, did all that he could to worry him.

Every time the court overruled one of La Pique's objections or exceptions the little Frenchman would embarrass the judge by saying: "But, your honor, you do not understand the law in this case. It is as I say." This happened about every ten minutes during the trial, and Judge Jamison, knowing La Pique's record for escaping on technicalities, allowed the man to go unrebuked.

When it came time for passing sentence the court asked La Pique if he had any motion to make. The latter replied that he did, and then filed about a half-dozen, ending with a motion for a rehearing. All were denied, and the court asked him if there was any final motion he cared to make.

ONLY MOTION TO CARRY.
"Yes, I move we adjourn," yelled La Pique. The laugh that followed almost drowned the voice of the court as he said: "Ten years in the penitentiary."

peals, and La Pique started the ball rolling by filing about six petitions on the first day. He managed to get the court to accept his bill of exceptions for what they were worth, and the court, in order to be perfectly fair, allowed him one continuance after another. But all of his petitions have been denied on one ground or another, until he has become disgusted with the Appellate Court and has started operations for the Supreme Court.

The minutes of an average case in the Appellate Court are recorded on about ten lines of the clerk's docket, but La Pique's case occupies nearly two pages, so many motions and petitions has he made.

Clerk W. D. Shearer of the District Court of Appeals will not allow his deputies to make any entries in the docket for fear that some error might creep in by which La Pique could ask for a new trial.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Police Commission has again reported to the Council favoring the purchase of additional Gamewell fire alarm boxes.

Superior Court Judges Davis, Moss and Hervey are expected to begin work on their calendars about March 15. Judge Davis will be the second criminal judge.

W. H. Carlson, president of the defunct Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, failed to produce the funds to pay depositors and claims against the bank and the hearing for a receivership was begun before Judge James yesterday.

Upon the question whether a key is a "tool" hangs the decision of Judge Clarke, in the W. M. Kinney alleged jewelry robbery case, brought against the Maryland Casualty Company.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SAYS GAWEWELL IS ALL RIGHT.

FIRE COMMISSION MAKES A BELATED ANSWER.

Condemns the Competing Specifications Prepared by the Council and Declares Such Competition Might Prove Costly to the Municipality—Council Report Expected.

When the Council meets today it will receive a report from the Fire Commission on the specifications adopted in November, and sent through courtesy to the commission for the purchase of a new fire-alarm system. At first the commission ignored them, but when a requisition for 100 boxes was returned by the Council with a request for an answer to the November communication the commission woke up its special committee and got a report. This report was filed yesterday, and suggests specifications along the commission's ideas.

It is a defense of the Gamewell system, and contains no reference to the Auditor's right of nearly two years for a reduction of the prices charged by that company. The report shows that letters were sent to fifty-seven cities asking for statistics on the systems in use, style of boxes used and their price, and "if you consider the present system the best on the market, if not what system do you consider best?"

Answers from forty-two cities were received, and all except three or four were in favor of the Gamewell company at $125 a box. The question was not asked if this price was too high. Neither does the report say what the "three or four cities" have to say on the subject.

As to the competing specifications adopted by the Council, the report says: "We cannot consistently recommend the approval of the specifications now under consideration, as they appear to be so drawn as to practically preclude the possibility of a successful bidder who would hold a concession or privilege from the city of Los Angeles to experiment with the safety of property and lives in a certain portion of the city, and if the experiment was successful the city would buy the apparatus, and either operate a dual system or scrap the present equipment and substitute the new."

It also says the "University district is not the only one claiming protection." This is a slap at Councilman Wallace.

With this report in his possession it is hard to tell what the Council will do. Probably nothing until Mr. Wallace returns to his post at City Hall. It is expected the long-delayed report on the investigation of the Gamewell company's bid, dating from January, and this report, if it is as volatile as it was thought to be months ago when talked of, will probably keep fire alarms ringing for several weeks in the City Hall.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

GETTING READY FOR BUSINESS.

NEW JUDGES HAVE WORK LINED OUT FOR THEM.

Temporary Courtrooms for Two Will Be Fitted Up Outside and Grand Jury Room for Third—Great Number of Cases Assigned for Hearings Beginning in March.

It is intended to have the new Superior Court judges, Messrs. Davis, Moss and Hervey, begin work as soon as possible. The assignments made by Presiding Judge James last Tuesday, providing for the trial of cases in the new departments beginning March 15, about 135 cases have been assigned to the new appointees, enough to keep them busy for quite a while.

To expedite business it is proposed to fit up temporarily two rooms for Departments Nos. 11 and 12 in the Jones Block, New High and Franklin streets, as it will be impossible to have the proposed new quarters in the County Jail building ready by that date.

The presiding judge in Department No. 10 will use the present grand jury room on the fourth floor of the Courthouse, and this can be made ready in a short time. Just what will be done along this line, however, depends upon a meeting of the whole corps of Superior judges in a few days.

There is a general understanding that Judge Davis will be the second criminal judge, Judge Willis being the other, but this arrangement is subject to a change when the joint conference of the judges is held. Judge Wilbur will become the presiding judge after May 1, and after that date, for the next year, Judge James, the retiring presiding judge, will hear all divorce cases.

MYTHICAL MONEY.

CARLSON AGAIN IN COURT. W. H. Carlson, president of the defunct Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, failed to produce the $40,000 necessary to pay the depositors and claims against that institution, as promised, and the hearing for the appointment of a receiver was begun before Judge James yesterday. At the conclusion of the evidence a continuance was ordered until March.

The principal witness of the day was Miss Lida McKittick, who testified that she was cashier, book-keeper, vice-president, secretary and director of the bank. The State failed to secure any testimony from Mrs. McKittick that she had repeatedly warned Carlson the last few days before the bank was closed by the Bank Commission, that the cash was running low, and that some provision should be made for securing more ready money.

In reply to the question of how much money was on hand when the bank quit, she said it amounted to $31,347. She also testified that at that time the bank owed depositors $7,414.15. The amount of credits enjoyed by the bank at that time were about $100,000, ranging from $7.15 in a New York institution to $25,000 in the Broadway Bank and Trust Company of this city.

Miss McKittick testified there were notes on hand at the bank signed by Mrs. Carlson, one for $3500, March 20, 1906; one for $2500, February 14, 1906; another for $3400, June 7, 1906, signed by the Los Angeles Security Company, a Carlson concern; two notes, December 1, 1907, and April, 1908, for $4450, signed by the Redondo and Hermosa Railway, also a Carlson company; and another, August 25, 1907, signed by the Royal Hotel Company (organized by Carlson), that constructed a hotel at Imperial Junction, conducted by a son of Carlson. She saw no security for these notes. She denied that she had done considerable "scratching" on the books at the request of the Bank Commissioners after they had taken charge of the institution.

At this point Carlson complained that the witness was nodding to Evan Lewis, custodian of the bank, who was in the courtroom, and that McKittick and Lewis both denied they were communicating.

W. S. Fawcett, one of the Bank Commissioners, testified as to the condition of the bank when it was closed June 4, 1908.

HANGS ON A NAIL.

COURT WANTS TIME TO DECIDE. "Is a key a tool?" That is the question upon which hangs the disposition of the action brought by W. M. Kinney of No. 617 South Spring street to recover from the Maryland Casualty Company $3444.63, on account of a burglary policy issued by the defendant company.

The exclusive publication in The Times yesterday that Charles (Arvin) Hammel, now serving a life-term sentence at San Quentin, had confessed to Sheriff Hammel that he had robbed the Kinney store in March, 1907, broke the end of comment at the Courthouse. During the morning the attorneys for Kinney and Hammel had an extended conference on the subject of the confession, but it was determined to take no further steps in the matter, as it had not been claimed by the attorneys of the Maryland Casualty Company that the robbery had not been committed.

The robbery was admitted, but it was claimed that due diligence had not been used by the plaintiff, in that he had allowed the outside door of his safe to remain open. It was also set out that in the meaning of the law as it had not been claimed by the policy insured against the use of a key in opening the safe, whereas a key was used. After conclusion of the testimony, Judge Clarke said the only point at issue was whether a key was a tool, in the purview of the law, and asked that briefs be submitted on that proposition. Attorneys promised to have briefs prepared within ten days.

DEFENSE SCORES POINT.

WITNESS FOR "ARIZONA JACK." Justice Sumnerfield heard several witnesses in the "Arizona Jack" Allen murder case yesterday, and adjourned the hearing for another week. Charles Moore of Newhall said that he had found Allen's broken watch, about 200 feet from the place of the shooting, bearing on the face of the accused that his watch had been taken from him before he was shot December 10, 1907.

J. H. Campbell, Martin Aguirre, Deputy Sheriffs, and Asa Keyes, Deputy District Attorney, were asked as to what had become of Allen's watch, supposed to have been taken from DeMoranville's revolver, and also, where Allen's watch was found by Moore, now in jail.

It is asserted by the prosecution that the watch was found by Moore, and will be produced before the conclusion of the hearing.

HIS TRADING CASE.

BAIL WITHOUT STAMPS. J. Edward Grant, former manager of the Los Angeles Trading Stamp Company, was arrested yesterday on a warrant from the court of Justice Ling, charging him with embezzlement. It is charged that on March 4, 1908, he appropriated to his own use, a check drawn by Peter Nolan, for $119.85. Grant was held in $500 bail, which he furnished. The hearing of the case was set for March 8.

While the specific charge against Grant is embezzlement, it is understood the arrest is the result of long standing trouble involving stockholders of the Trading Stamp Company. It is asserted that Grant was removed from the position of manager, and that more than $1000 has been spent having the stockholders' names added to a salary Grant received a percentage on the sale of all stamp pads.

TWO HUSBANDS LOSE.

ONE A CASE, ONE A WIFE. Judge Hutton case yesterday heard the divorce case brought by Rudolph G. Kiesling against Louise Kiesling, and at the close of the testimony, denied a decree to the plaintiff, giving the wife $200 a month in alimony, and her separate maintenance. The testimony showed a long series of family jars, with the setting in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other cities.

The court in deciding the case, said the plaintiff had shown himself unworthy, and that while much had been deduced showing incompleteness, that was no reason for divorce under the laws of California. Kiesling is German and a musician, and one of the saddest things he had to tell was how his wife had destroyed his favorite fiddle.

He left her in Los Angeles when she was about to become a mother, but he wrote her a letter and a reconciliation followed. Then came another outbreak, during which the wife reviled her husband, and the suit for divorce followed.

In Judge James' court the woes of an army officer's wife were heard in the case of Marie Benson against George W. Benson. The defendant was a quartermaster-sergeant in the army, and the two went to the Philippines. Returning to San Francisco, he deserted her, and afterward the woman took service on a steamship and acted as stewardess on several voyages.

She testified that on her last voyage across from Manila, her youngest daughter was a stowaway on the ship, but that she had managed to keep up enough money to pay the passage of her other daughter. The couple were married in the Philippines, and a divorce in 1902, and remarrying Benson a year later in Cebu. The decree was granted.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BRIEFER MISCELLANEOUS. WANT DAMAGES. J. Weiss and H. Stimmore have brought an action in the Superior Court against John Rottenberg and his wife, Bessie Rottenberg, asking damages. It is alleged the plaintiffs rented quarters at No. 423 Turner street, where it was proposed to open a Russian and sweat bath establishment, that all preparations were made for the formal beginning of business, when the defendants refused to open the portion of the house containing the plunge and two tubs, unless additional rent was paid.

NOT GUILTY. J. R. Veach, charged with uttering a bad check, pleaded not guilty in Judge Clarke's court yesterday, and his trial was set for April 12.

SAN PEDRO SUIT. The suits against San Pedro, for alleged illegal digging up of the streets, are piling up, and the municipality is again made defendant in an action brought by Henrietta Durkin to recover $1000 damages, filed in the Superior Court yesterday.

IS POSTPONED. The hearing of the case against Mrs. Fay Lowenstein, before Justice Stephens, yesterday, was again postponed, because of the absence of the accused's attorneys in the Superior Court. An attempt will be made to resume today.

BOTH FINED. In Judge Ling's court yesterday William Franklyn and Charles Conklin were fined respectively $7.50 and $20, for cruelty to animals, the men committed the offense at Monrovia.

TESTIMONY ENDED. The case of the Park Land Company against the American Agricultural Chemical Company, which has been in progress before Judge Conklin for several weeks, closed last night, and was submitted. An attempt is being made to prove the establishment of a nuisance because of the smells said to emanate from the place.

MANY TONGUES. In the trial of Henry Lee, a Chinaman, charged with burglary of Mrs. Morrell's house, No. 726 North Alameda street, before Judge Wilbur and a jury yesterday, many races were represented. The defendant is a son of the Flowering Kingdom, one of the witnesses was a Frenchman, and an Italian, interpreters in each tongue being necessary.

THEIR PLEAS. Arthur W. Lizer, charged with criminal assault, and Samuel Brown, charged with making an assault with deadly weapons, pleaded not guilty in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. Lizer's trial was set for April 1, and Brown's for April 15.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Pin Company, capital stock $15,000; Federal Building Company, capital stock $250,000. A certificate for the removal of the principal place of business was filed by the Western Union Oil Company.

FIND FOR DEFENDANT. The jury in Judge Morrell's court, considering the case brought by John J. Mitchell against Selma F. Ives Avila, returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The contention was that the defendant had agreed to purchase 200 shares of the Boeschke Dredging Company of San Francisco, and then refused to accept the stock, and was to recover $10,000, the value of the stock.

ALLEGED DAMAGES. Samuel Kirkpatrick and Eliza Thomas have brought an action against the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, asking damages for an explosion of gas at Nos. 325-332 East Fifth street. Thomas, who conducted the Redondo restaurant at that place, and judgment for $2100, for furnishings destroyed, while Kirkpatrick wants $15,000 for alleged injuries received.

MONEY TO START. The Board of Supervisors heard with an opinion by Hartley Shaw, Chief Deputy District Attorney, to the effect that the new law on hand $25,000 with which to start up on the new Hall of Records. Another $50,000 was available from the May apportionment of county taxes, and a special levy will be made next year to prosecute the work to completion.

NO INVITATIONS ISSUED. Federal authorities are reticent as to the date of departure of Macon, Villereal and Rivera to Arizona, to be tried on the charge of violating the neutrality laws. In the absence of United States Marshal Young, now on his honeymoon, Al Stitt is in charge of the office. He stated last night that the three Mexican revolutionaries would be removed quickly from the County Jail to the military station, some night, and shipped to Phoenix. Although the Federal officials have not the slightest fear of the misguided followers of the rabid "red" they wish to avoid any possible trouble.

WIDOW SEEKS DAMAGES. The case of Mary O'Connell against the Santa Fe Railway Company was on trial all of yesterday before a jury in the United States District Court. The plaintiff is seeking to recover $25,000 for the death of her husband, James J. O'Connell, who was killed in an accident August 6, last. O'Connell was a fireman on a locomotive which blew up between this city and San Diego, and he was instantly killed. The plaintiff alleges that the boilers were defective. The defendant claims it was an unavoidable accident. The trial will be resumed this morning.

BEST TREATMENT FOR CROUP

SUDDEN, SEVERE ATTACKS ARE OF FREQUENT OCCURRENCE.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Certain Cure—Has Never Been Known to Fail.

If your child has ever had croup, you need no description of the symptoms, but to the inexperienced, the peculiar ringing cough is often unnoticed until the disease is well under way. A child may go to bed at night in his usual health, except perhaps a cold, only to awaken a few hours later with a well-developed attack of croup and the remainder of the night is spent by the anxious parents in trying to relieve his suffering, which is usually more or less experimental. It is usually difficult to secure the services of a physician in the middle of the night, and he should never be depended upon as the case must be treated at once. A bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house will save anxiety, expense and perhaps the life of the child. When this medicine is given at the first indication of croup, the attack may be avoided, and even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. We have never known it to fail. It is a cure in any case of croup, and it is, we believe, in more general use in the United States for that disease than any other remedy.

WITNESSES AT INQUEST DODGE SNAPSHOT MEN.

Called to Tell of Killing by Automobile They Bashfully Keep Their Hands Before Their Faces—Driver of Machine Still in Jail Held Without Bail.

Determined to dodge the cameras of photographers, Jessamund F. Taylor and Bertha Holmes, the chief witnesses in the inquest over the remains of Woodman Thomas, sprinted from a room in the Breese morgue yesterday afternoon, and with their hands over their faces ran for the nearest car line.

The inquest was not completed because of the absence of Patrolman O'Brien, a witness to the accident, who failed to appear when his name was called. The hearing will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock.

J. B. Dudley, salesman for the Stearns automobile agency, who was driving the machine at the time Thomas was struck, is still in jail, held on suspicion without bail.

At the conclusion of the inquest this morning, Dudley was charged and home will swear out a complaint against Dudley, if the evidence at the inquest warrants such action.

When the case was called yesterday afternoon, the women, who were in the automobile Wednesday morning, entered the inquest room. Both were heavily veiled, and kept their hands over their faces when the time to testify was called.

They denied having known Dudley prior to an hour before the accident. It was testified that Dudley and a party of friends went for a ride in the car early Tuesday evening. They spent some time in the suburbs, and returned to the city at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The other men left the machine and went home, but Dudley and Williams, a real estate agent, went to the Saddle Rock restaurant. There they met Fred Gregory and the two women.

Gregory, who knew Dudley well, introduced him to the women, and they had a round of drinks. Gregory then asked the ladies drive the party home. He agreed to do so, and they left the restaurant and entered the automobile.

Both women denied being drunk. They admitted having had several bottles of beer in the morning, but stated they were able to hold more than that without showing the effects.

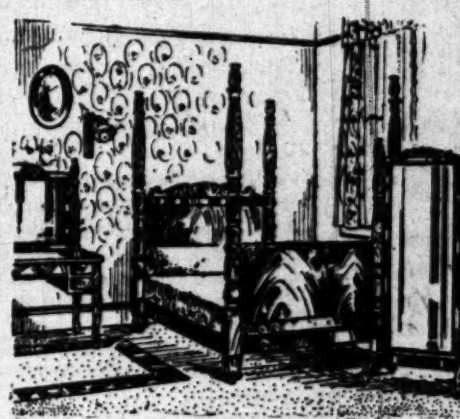

"No one in the party was under the influence of liquor," said Miss Taylor. "Mr. Dudley was the driver, and he slowed down at Fifth street, and this man, who was crossing the street, looked up as he heard the automobile horn, and stopped as though to let it pass. He started forward quickly, and it struck him, throwing him to the gutter."

The women further testified that Dudley did not stop because they had requested him to get them away from the scene of the accident, and avoid the notoriety.

The detectives state that they will produce witnesses today who will testify that the machine was going at high speed.

When I was seated, the curtain parted, and Madam Vera entered. Great staid that coming of the staid when you enter. I used to call that finer than any one else the business.

Hi, ho. Them happy days! Madam Vera, holding her hands over her heart, stood there rolling her eyes the way they all do; but I just as "Nix on the googie eyes, kid; I use to be in the business."

So then Vera she cut out the fan business and took up my hand and I little while was a spook.

"Head line—cracked in the middle she said spitefully; but I came right back at her. 'That isn't the head line; that's the heart line.'"

"She saw I was some on palmist ground, and she stuck to the risk."

"I snopped around among the lines of the Mages of Jupiter, and also of Venus."

"Well," she said at last, "you are a real seer. That's the way you're greater than when you were a child. I recall Councilman."

"What times—when?" I asked eagerly.

"Whenever you can show cards enough to open the jack pot," said she.

"Cat," I muttered.

"You have had a hard time," she said sympathetically. "It is hard to say whether it was rougher on you or the town."

"I'll tell you the cards with you are dealt," I said, absently.

"But," said Vera, "better days are ahead."

"Do I get some kind of job?" I asked, impatiently.

"You have always me the mysterious stare that we always use."

"A great—a very great honor will be done for you," she said. "I won't overdo it." I made an answer.

"You are to be the Mayor of the city," said Vera slowly.

Vera Tells the Original Recall Statesman That He Will Be the Re-recall Mayor.

BY DOCTOR WOWNOWN.

When an artist, always an artist. Professional interest drew me to the apartments of Madame Vera, the celebrated hand-painted palmist. With all modesty, I can say that I was not so good a performer as she was; still, she is clever; very clever, indeed. She at once recognized me as a recall statesman—later on she told me as a reformed spook. As I shoved aside the curtains, it was my heart's desire to see her. "Just such stage props," she said, "as I used when I was doing business."

Dr. Wownown's "sitting" with Madame Vera, the palmist.

"Professor Arthur" stunts. Happy days when I was a spook! When I was seated, the curtains were pulled, and Madame Vera entered. She said that parting of the curtains when you enter. I used to be in the business myself. "That isn't the head line," she said. "That's the heart line." "I saw I was some on palmistry," she said. "I was around among the lines of Mount of Jupiter and also on the Mount of Saturn." "Well," she said at last, "you are going into a period of great trouble—greater than when you were a recall statesman." "Where do you see that?" I asked. "In the lines," she said. "I see great talent," she said. "You are prominent man in political circles of the Democratic Club; that is, at the moment." "What times—when?" I asked eagerly. "Whenever you can show cards enough to open the jack pot," said she. "I muttered. 'You have had a hard time,' she said. 'It is hard to tell whether it was rougher on you or the town.'"

LETTERS TO THE TIMES

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents without holding them responsible for writers' opinions. No letters will be published unless they are signed and clearly state the position of the writer. Letters are liable to be declined merely on account of their length.]

The Mote and the Beam.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In common with many friends and acquaintances, I have carefully watched the trend of events leading up to the present status of "recall" matters and the result is that I am firmly convinced that Mayor Harper is guilty; yes, extremely guilty of refusing to be bossed and dictated to by one E. T. Earl of the Express, and T. E. Gibbon of the Herald, and the two have framed up a systematic warfare to ruin him socially, politically and every other way that lies in their power.

In all my experience I have never known of a more malicious, relentless, cruel and totally uncalculated persecution than is now heaped on Mr. Harper, the object of which is to enable the persecutors to get control of municipal affairs and allow Earl to escape the heavy damage suits for libel that are now pending against him, all while carefully befogging the real issues and attempting to throw and in the eyes of the public under the guise of "vice being protected in Los Angeles."

What ho! What nonsense. Do Earl and Gibbon really think that the great mass of voters in the community is so dense and stupid as to not be able to see through this bunco game which they are attempting to play? "Straws show which way the wind blows," and here is a straw for these coming down on a Pico car this morning there were fourteen voters. A discussion arose regarding the local political situation and it developed that ten out of the fourteen were strongly in favor of Harper and intended to give him their enthusiastic support at the coming election. Had Mr. Earl been a passenger on that car he would have heard such a number of left-handed compliments as would have caused him to sit up and take notice. He was denounced in no uncertain terms as a disturbing element and an undesirable citizen, a promoter of discord and an arrant hypocrite. The consensus of opinion was that Mr. Earl, before assuming such a "T am holier than thou" position, should first clear his skirts of the rebate charges which permeate them to such an extent as to be a stench in the nostrils of all law-abiding citizens who have the real interests and upbuilding of our beautiful city at heart.

Being a Republican, I did not vote for Mr. Harper when he was put in office, but I will surely do so at the coming election, and I appeal to all voters, regardless of politics who believe in fair play, good government and a square deal, to do likewise. GRAYSON LEWIS, No. 1600 Magnolia avenue.

TUGWELL TUGS AT DANDY.
Declares Head of Fraternal Champions
—Knew of Intention of Government
to Issue Fraud Order.

Taking exception to some things
said by C. P. Dandy, concerning his connection with the Order of Pendo, P. Tugwell yesterday declared that there was no misunderstanding between him and Dandy as to the real condition of that order at the time of its consolidation with the Fraternal Champions.

"When I went to him about it he wanted to know how he was to learn the exact conditions of the Order of Pendo, and as there was a vacancy in
the board of trustees, I appointed Dandy to fill it so that he would have every opportunity to learn for himself. That was a month before it was turned over; I went up to Washington
and Oregon to reconcile the members to the consolidation, and while I was gone the trustees met and, when I returned, Dandy said he was satisfied,
and if necessary he and his wife
would put in $50,000 to save it."

"He talks about putting me where I belong in six months. Why does he wait? I don't want six weeks, nor six days; I am ready to meet anything I have done, right now. If Dandy ever paid any money whatever into the order,
I don't know it. I accepted him last July of taking the money of the people and appropriating it to his own use, and I quit right there, and have never been back."

"I have in my possession a letter written from his office on December 22
last, in which he stated that the order
was in good condition, and rapidly increasing in membership, and he collected the December dues, which were not paid until January, 1909. At the same time he knew a fraud order was likely to be issued by the Postoffice Department, and had been so notified by the inspector, and that is the only reason he decided to close up, though he did not do so until he had collected the December dues. I am ready to meet any charge he has to make against me
without a moment's delay."

Thus the thing stands all sides
having been heard from.

Most Gigantic Shoe Stock Ever Sacrificed in Los Angeles

A. J. Hamilton & Sons Purchase the Great Stock of the Cummings
Shoe Company and Inaugurate Two

STUPENDOUS SALES OF FINE SHOES

One of the very largest as well as one of the very best shoe stocks in Los Angeles has passed into our hands. We secured the Cummings shoe stock at practically our own price. We were the only firm having the ready cash to lay down for such a large and high-grade stock. The lessee demands the earliest possible surrender of the store. As we are already overcrowded at our regular store, 311 South Broadway, with the new spring goods, we are forced to inaugurate two big sales at once. We will clear out the Cummings stock as far as possible in the limited time allowed and at the same time make room for the remainder at our regular store by conducting a great special make-room sale at 311 South Broadway. Everybody knows that these two stocks are without an equal in Los Angeles for quality, style and general excellence.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

There's a pianist who, for a wonder,
doesn't compose or express any presentiments to Joseph Lhevinne, who is who is encoined in a bright
apartment at the Alexandria, Lhevinne speaks excellent English,
and America and Americans, and has an integrated fads nor allegedly artistic fads. His pictures, by the way, show him a much older man
than he is in reality, with his round,
pink face, his frankly Semitic cast
of features and a ruddy complexion
that is a natural product of sun
and wind.

He had been talking of Paderewski's
latest symphonic effort. Lhevinne,
who, for the past few weeks
has been entirely out of reach of contemporary musical reviews, had been making no comment on the reception
of Paderewski's work when presented,
four days ago, by the Boston symphony orchestra. I told, truthfully, though it is a little did not set him, or East River, either, in a congregation; but Lhevinne said he did not know. With fraternal air he said that he had not seen the work.

Further, he knew nothing.
"But for myself," he deprecated the work, "I prefer to remain an interpreter, doing the best I can and devoting all my talents to a study of the masters. That I may, in a moment of time, bring a great deal of their true spirit to light. There's so much music in the world, and so many written each year that, one
year or less, has really no significance."

After that we drifted into a discussion of Lhevinne's native Russia.
"Conditions there," said he, "have been unsettled, but very productive of honest and ambitious effort.
Russia's turbulent times within and without have had an influence both
for and against the arts—for, by promoting ambition and the spirit of effort, against, by preventing the peace and solidity which is the fundamental of a really great national art in the end."

That reason I'm rather chary
about introducing much that is new
in Russian music in my programmes
this year. I have indeed, devoted considerable attention to Russian composition, but I am beginning to feel that this music is less understood by the public at large. Hence I am giving my best attention to the old masters as well.

This is Lhevinne's third visit to the United States, and his second concert
in this country. He did not succeed in getting much farther west
than Chicago on any previous visit,
hence he is enjoying to the fullest his California trip.

His concerts in Mexico, after which he returned to his hotel, have been described in a previous issue of this paper. In his room at the Alexandria
is a great wealth of musical instruments, and while Lhevinne is in the possession of the Mexican donors,
and in Spanish: "In Homage to Lhevinne loves the outdoors. Today
he is going to Redlands, where he will be under the auspices of the Lhevinne Club, and after the concert he will be for Grand Canyon, where he will remain over Sunday, returning to Los Angeles on Monday.

His next here will be on Tuesday night.

LOGICAL SURVEY TO AID IN PLACING THEM.

State and Counties Must Provide All
Finances—Twenty-five Hundred Dollars Still Available at Sacramento If the Board of Supervisors
Will Ask for It.

County Supervisors will provide necessary signs for directing travelers on the desert. The United States Geological Survey will assist in placing them; wherever possible. This is stated in a letter from W. C. Men-den, geologist in charge of groundwater investigations, to George W.
Persons of this city.

Topographical work is carried on by surveying in the desert regions, and
this proceeds slowly, the surveying
can attend to the locating of signs as well. At present, appropriations are all for specific purposes, and there is no money in excess of the money available, hence the survey cannot undertake additional expense without direct authority from Congress.

There is a balance of $2500 in Sacramento, left over from the appropriation two years ago, that is available for this purpose, and it only remains for the Supervisors to take account and arrange for placing the signs authorized by the States to save much
wasting and loss of life on the desert.

The action of the Geological Survey was at a result of a report brought from Washington through Senator Jones, who has been at work on the desert for some time. The report stated that the National Bureau of Mineral Resources, which is the department of the National Bureau of Mines, whenever Congress
appropriates money for the purpose
of establishing a system of signs
to guide travelers, it is badly needed in the desert. Two years ago that State made an appropriation for improving water supplies, but none for signposting. The carrying out of the law's provisions was left to the county authorities, and they appear to have done about the same amount of investigation that California's have.

BUYS HANDSOME HOME.

George Woman Pays Between Twenty
and Twenty-five Thousand Dollars for Residence.

The handsome home of George J.
Wright, on southeast corner of Twenty-first and Hoover streets, has been sold to Mrs. Francis Burton Doubleton of Chicago. The price reported is $25,000. The house was built and made by John W. Monahan, of Roswell, N. M.

The property consists of a lot with front on West Twenty-first street, and 150 feet on Hoover street.
It is improved with a handsome two-story residence, modern every respect. The grounds are extensive and beautifully improved with lawns and flowers.

The sale of a tract of land slightly over ten acres in extent at the southeast corner of Western avenue
and Belmont boulevard, is also reported to have been made for $600,000 and is considered very reasonable for property of the kind. The buyer is Joseph W. Wright of Chicago.

It is announced at San Antonio, Tex.,
that soon after his inauguration, President Taft will visit the ranch of the P. Taft, near San Antonio. A club will likely hold out on the ranch
of the P. Taft.

PROF. LADD'S PEACE PLAN.
Yale Teacher Would Let Jingoism of America and Japan Fight It Out Alone.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Discussing
the talk of war between this country and Japan, Prof. George T. Ladd of Yale, addressing a reunion of the Alliance Association of Western Reserve University here last night, suggested a plan which, he said, would
end for all time the rumors of approaching conflict.

"I would take the best battleship in the American navy," said Prof. Ladd, after discussing at length the Christian nations of the western world,
suggested a plan which, he said, would
end for all time the rumors of ap-
proaching conflict.

"Then I would place Richmond Pearson Hobson in command, man the vessel with certain members of Congress
and Representatives of a certain belligerent press, and send it to the middle of the Pacific, where it would meet
a Japanese vessel, similarly manned
by Japanese. I would let them fight,
and after picking up the survivors
place them on an island where they would be required to live together for a period. That, I think, would effectually end all talk of war in this country, or in Japan."

HARRIMAN CELEBRATES.
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. H. Harriman observed his sixty-first birthday here
today by walking about his camp for two hours. He received hundreds of congratulatory letters. Mr. Harriman says he feels much better than when he came here. He has not slept a single night in the tent, preferring his bed in his car. It was announced at the camp today that the party will abandon camp the first of next week and move to an uptown hotel. After a week there they will go either to Mexico or California.

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene Wednesday evening of a most interesting wedding when the B. Riveroll, daughter of Manuel Riveroll, became the bride of Arthur B. C. Dr. William A. Love for the old parents caused John K. Findlay of Altoona, Pa., to discover a new use for the phonograph. On the sixtieth anniversary of his parents, living in Glasgow, Scotland, he overcame the regret that he could not be present by playing the records of his parents' voices. He talked and sang into a graphophone, and sent the records home. At the celebration the next day, he played the records of his parents' voices, and the old folks were very happy.

Mrs. C. A. Benway. The wedding is announced today.

Fourteen trolley cars were stalled by a truck to which were hitched two horses. Their legs trembled so that they could do nothing but slip and slide. A quiet looking man walked up.

"Let me have those horses for five minutes," said he, and although the crowd laughed and the policeman snickered, the driver gladly threw down the reins. The man produced some strong rubber bands and snapped them over the horses' ears, so that the horses could not jump. Then he mounted the driver's seat and drove off.

Mrs. Sembrich is a real fairy god-mother to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Di Biondi of Brooklyn, N. Y., for she has given the infant a title, check, her blessing, as well as a picture of herself, all of which will be prized in later years by this fortunate young man, who has been named Vittorio Marcello.

A woman in England, Miss Easton, has founded a trust fund of $100,000 to provide annuities for twenty spinners. She had recognized the crying need for relief and help to lonely women who are left through no fault of their own in the event of life to battle with poverty, sickness and unemployment.

Policeman J. V. Kincaid of Kansas City has been presented a gold medal by M. Koenigsberger for saving the latter's wife by stopping her runaway horse. Kincaid was knocked down and seriously injured by the horse.

While we hear of the attempts made upon the lives of European rulers, we seldom hear much about the evidences of love and respect for them among their subjects. When King Edward, as Prince of Wales, was suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, he was the recipient of a hop-pole, which the donor declared would bring complete restoration to the royal patient. The year when he was suffering from a year or two ago from the same complaint, received a bottle of Jordan water, which was delivered at the palace by one of his devoted subjects who had made a special pilgrimage to Palestine for it.

A menagerie proprietor sent three fine elephants to the German Emperor some years ago. His Majesty, not wishing to hurt the feelings of his loyal subject, accepted the offer and handed them over to the Zoological Gardens, Berlin. A huge Polar bear once arrived at the Royal Palace at St. Petersburg, much to the astonishment of the officials, addressed as a birthday gift to the "Little Father." The bear took a fancy to the apartment of the officials, and he did not leave his shaggy white coat, and the bear was housed in an out-building of the Winter Palace.

Miss Kate G. Warner of No. 42 West One Hundred and Seventh street, New York, one morning observed a teamster beating his horse with a long club that had made it several men called to the driver, but he told them to go about their business. Miss Warner walked out into the street, grasped the horse's bridle, and told the teamster to get off his seat. Then she held the horse while a policeman was summoned and later she appeared as a witness against the driver, who was sent to jail in default of bonds of $20.

William Kent, a Chicago millionaire, has just donated to the United States government a tract of land of 255 acres of natural redwood forest on the southern slope of Mt. Redwood, about six miles from San Francisco. It is the intention to name this redwood forest, which will now be served by the government, Muir Woods, after John Muir, the noted naturalist. The giant of Redwood Canyon will now be given permanent protection, and the children of many generations yet to come will have there a national park of extreme beauty and wonder.

NEW MEXICO. RECLAIM ARID LANDS RAPIDLY.

NEW PROJECTS INCLUDE NEARLY MILLION ACRES.

Government and Private Corporations Working Together to Develop the Western Desert—Wiggins System of Tiling, Expected to Solve Problems of Dry Farming.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) SANTA FE (N. M.), Feb. 25.—An addition to the gigantic reclamation scheme to reclaim half a million acres in the Rio Grande valley and other projects in the southwestern New Mexico, it has just come to light here that there are other projects, on which work will begin this spring, which reclaim at least a million acres of land in Central and Northern New Mexico. C. T. Higgins of Washington, D. C., is on his way to Santa Fe to initiate steps that will result in the penditure of at least a million dollars in the Rio Grande valley in the northern part of the Territory, under the provisions of the Carey Act. The project is extended to cover New Mexico and for which the Territorial Legislature now in session has enacted a bill to make its provisions applicable immediately.

The Colonial Bank and Security Company of Texas, which has filed incorporation papers with the secretary of the Territory, also has far-reaching plans for irrigating the Rio Grande valley, which when consummated, will make that region one of the garden spots of the whole Southwest, and eventually provide homes for half a million people in the valleys tributary to the Rio Grande north of this city.

A. R. Manby, a large land owner of Texas, is the moving spirit in these projects and as he has ample capital and is it safe to predict that the projects will be put through as speedily as possible. In addition a German colony of Lutherans has secured an option on a 5,000-acre tract of land thirty miles west of Santa Fe, which they will settle this spring and cultivate on the small farm plan. The land will be irrigated by means of a large storage reservoir, for which there is a natural site, and the water carried in a network of ditch systems.

There was closed at Kansas City, Mo., this week, a contract by B. F. Pankey of Topeka, Kan., owner of the famous San Cristobal land grant just south of the city, with the National Land and Sub-irrigation Company, a Missouri corporation, under the terms of which the company will at once begin the installation of a ten-acre demonstration farm on the grant. It is understood that Pankey expects to have the greater part of this 50,000-acre tract put under irrigation by this underground system of tilting water, which is to be supplied from ordinary drilled wells.

President Wiggins, the inventor of this continuous tile-making machine, states that a number of tracts of land near Albuquerque, East Las Vegas and Santa Fe will be equipped with his system the coming spring, and that his company will spend over a million dollars in the Territory. It is believed that the Department of Agriculture will join with this $3,000,000 corporation in the drilling of the patents, and establish numerous experimental stations throughout the Southwest. This system is said to successfully solve farming in the so-called arid regions and there has never been a failure where it has been tried.

QUEER DISEASE IS IN LOS ANGELES.

INTERNAL PARASITES ARE CAUSE OF MUCH ILL-HEALTH.

Prey Upon Human Race to Extent Very Little Appreciated by General Public—Have Tendency to Undermine Entire System.

The following remarkable statement was made by L. T. Cooper Thursday afternoon, Cooper, the man whose medicines and theories have aroused such widespread comment in the East, and who is now in Los Angeles introducing his medicine. He said: "During the past few days many people who are talking the preparation I have come to Los Angeles to introduce in this city and view has been brought to me internal parasites, commonly called tapeworms, that have recently passed from the system. Many of these people have been alarmed and come to ask for an explanation. Some of these people did not even know the nature of the parasite they brought to me, and in consequence were extremely nervous and excited over the matter.

"I take this opportunity of explaining what these creatures are and what I have learned about them in the past. 'Tapeworms, as they are called, are much more common than would be supposed. I venture to say that 10 per cent of the population of this city are afflicted with them. They are a real trouble and what is known as a 'run-down condition,' is caused by these parasites in the body. They are a real trouble and what is known as a 'run-down condition,' is caused by these parasites in the body. They are a real trouble and what is known as a 'run-down condition,' is caused by these parasites in the body.

"People afflicted with one of these parasites are generally nervous and easily depressed. The chief sensation is one of languor—the least exertion will tire, and there is, as a rule, a dull pain in the lower part of the back. The individual imagines that he, or she, is suffering from many different diseases. The parasite is never in itself fatal, but it consumes a great part of the sustenance from food eaten and in consequence there is not enough nourishment left to sustain the body. The system loses vitality and every organ becomes more or less affected. Lack of energy and ambition not only affect the body, but the mind also becomes dull and sluggish, the memory is not so good and the eye-sight becomes somewhat poorer.

"As I have already stated, I believe these parasites are very prevalent. I leave Los Angeles, with my preparation. My medicine, in cleansing the system of impurities, seems to be fatal to these great worms and drives them from the system with astonishing rapidity.

"I shall be at the Owl Drug Company's store, 625 South Broadway, for several days, and will continue to meet those who wish to see me at this store from 10 o'clock until 6 P. M. I am anxious to meet those who have had the experience just related, with my preparation, that there is no danger from them in the body, and that it will as a rule mean a speedy restoration to good health."—ADV.

Hamburger Store Employees Present a Delightful Programme at Auditorium in Behalf of Their Benevolent Society and Standing Room Only Rewards All Concerned.

Friends and relatives of the young saleswomen and clerks of the great Hamburger store, packed to the doors the pretty auditorium, which was the scene last night of the first benefit performance given by their organization, the Hamburger Employees' Benevolent Society.

Long before the curtain rolled up on the first clever sketch, given by "The Big Four," it was necessary to display the S. R. O. sign, and then the Entertainment Committee were busy placing chairs in every nook and cranny from which a view of the stage could be obtained.

The programme opened with a comedy sketch, "School Days at Stanford," written by W. Tummonds, head accountant of the store. This was a most laughable farce, with catchy hits and by-plays, which immediately put the audience in a merry mood.

W. Tummonds as the mischievous college boy.

The next number was an illustrated song, "Under Southern Skies," sung by Alexander Deprez, Gene Cohn made a great hit as an impersonator of popular singing and dancing comedians, as did Miss Lura Miller, with a recitation entitled, "The Newsboy."

The Hobo Quartette, were a whole show in themselves, their make-up alone provoked fits. They were obliged to respond to several requests for songs, as did Messrs. R. Baus, M. Frazier, E. K. Smith and J. H. Lee.

"You're Just the Girl For Me," was the offering of Miss Alma Caselli, who is the possessor of a very sweet voice. "Abie's Irish Boy," a new song, responded from the rear of the hall, singing "You're Just the Girl For Me."

Down on the programme as "The World's Renowned Juggling Comedian," Charles Wallace did a little bit of everything, and pleased everybody. Lamons brothers, Hans and Fritz, who, it was explained, are no relatives of the Merry Sisters, presented "It's a Patch."

The Ellis quartette, who, with Miss Mary Durrett, were the only professionals in the entertainment, yet offered their services for the affair, appeared in three or four pleasing songs. This quartette is composed of Rudolph, Leon, Marquis Ellis, Leon de Celis and P. Reed. Selections from "Lucia di Lammermoor" was the offering of Dolly Graham, while as a fun maker, Abe Rosen, who has a tidy sum tucked away in bank, which he made by selling papers at Hamburger's, was a star of the evening.

The artistic feature of the evening was the clever singing and dancing of Miss Mary Durrett and her dancing dolls in the Kiss Kiss chorus. The girls looked the part of dainty dolls in their short frocks and several scores were necessary. The girls were almost smothered with flowers. The dancing girls were the Misses Edna Winters, Bebe Elting, Jessie Waterbury and Dorothy Marousek. Music for the evening was furnished by the Lyceum Ladies' Orchestra.

The auditorium was decorated with attractive pennants, and several of which the letters H.E.B.S. were stamped in blue, blending the colors of the society. As well as to the performers, the credit for the success of the affair is due to the Entertainment Committee, composed of Messrs. W. L. Brown, R. La Fontaine, D. E. Brown, and Miss C. Roff; Messrs. N. Cohn, E. Deprez, M. Frazier, A. H. Bronnenberg and E. DeBurgott.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church gave a farewell reception in the church parlors this evening for George Williamson and his family of Fremont street, who are moving to Redlands to reside. Refreshments were served. Mr. Williamson and family were presented with a handsome book.

Miss Olive Austin, daughter of Mrs. E. C. Austin, No. 906 Mission street, was married at 2:30 this evening to William C. Bondles of Texas. Rev. Frederick Henrich of St. James' Episcopal Church officiated. The Misses Edna and Frances Dorit of Highland Park played the Lohengrin wedding march and other selections.

The bride wore a heavy duchess satin made empire, trimmed with duchess lace and pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her traveling gown is a tailored brown chiffon broadcloth, with hat and gloves to match. The living-room where the ceremony was performed was decorated in white and green. The color scheme of the dining-room and living-room was in pink, enchanteress carnations and geraniums were combined with amaranth. Immediately after the wedding supper the young couple left for a short wedding journey.

Members of the school board have called a mass meeting to be held in the El Centro school tomorrow evening, to consider the needs of a new school building to the east of Fair Oaks avenue.

The Baraca Boys of the Methodist Church were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Augusta Raab, No. 1107 Buena Vista street, by the Mrs. Allie Coles, Philineas, and J. C. Coles, classes of girls. Games and music were enjoyed and light refreshments served.

Miss Florence Oettler of Plattville, Wis., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bishop of Meridian avenue.

Mrs. E. H. Dey and daughters, Laura, are the guests of Mrs. M. O. Eggleston on Mission street, and will pass the remainder of the winter here.

Fisher of Men Tells of Life as It is Lived by Men of the Wind-Driven Dory and Ice-Covered Trail—His Master's Service—To Speak Again on Monday Night.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell will be guest of honor at a banquet given by the Federation Club in its new quarters at Fourth and Hill streets last night. Many of the most prominent churchmen in this city were present.

Rev. E. P. Ryland, president of the club, was toastmaster. He introduced Nathan Newby, who made a short address of welcome. The president then introduced Dr. William Horace Day as the man who will introduce our distinguished guest.

"I have been chauffeur to Dr. Grenfell today," said Dr. Day. "I took him to the High School, where he made addresses to the students. We visited the hospital, and the doctor, but doubtless none of them interested him as much as the places about which he will speak with interest."

Dr. Grenfell, founder of the society bearing his name, organized and administered a fisherman of Labrador, was then introduced.

"Our work among the fishermen on the coast of Labrador, calling them to follow Jesus Christ, is but the echo of the sea since birth, lived with them, fished with them, been on a sea shore when the Romans landed on the Isles of Britain, and they made a shore with their clothes with a stranger when caught in a tight corner, and only those who have fished off Labrador know what that sacrifice means."

"They are people who take their punishment without squealing. I picked a man up after a heavy storm of last year. He had lost all that he had saved during sixty years of fishing. He was an old man, and had no hope of regaining his wealth, but he was much more interested in the saving of other sailors than his own welfare. On that trip we picked up forty-three men from wrecked fishing boats, and saved five boats, but we could not do any more."

"Up in Labrador we are somewhat behind the times, and that is the reason that we do not fly off at a tangent over so-called modern learning. I am a surgeon, and for our fishermen learned that a broken leg had to be set in plaster, and not prayed over. We have not had a suicide on the coast in the past twenty years."

"In the latter part of the last century there was a traveling surgeon for Labrador, but they did nothing but bleed, so the King abolished it. I was a balance at which the fishermen could take a bath when they came in from the winter voyages on which nothing is impossible."

"But the problem we have to solve, there is to call these fishermen to follow Jesus Christ. I am a surgeon, and for our fishermen learned that a broken leg had to be set in plaster, and not prayed over. We have not had a suicide on the coast in the past twenty years."

Traffic Manager of Pacific Electric Buys Thirty Acres Adjoining His Home and Family Residence Will Be Replaced and Private Park Laid Out—Octogenarian Passes.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) GLENDALE, Feb. 25.—John McMillan, traffic manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, purchased thirty acres contiguous to his foothill home in North Glendale back of Casa Verdugo and near the end of the car line. The property is to be at once converted into a magnificent private park and already landscape artists are busily planning walks, drives, shaded woods, beds of rare flowers, stone gates and a conservatory and artificial lake. There will be vine-covered, cobbled stone walls, and a tea-garden for private use. A park extends to the foothills, where the view takes in forty-five miles of valley floor, foothills and Glendale, Toluca and Los Angeles. The scene is rivaled only by that viewed from the top of the hills in Griffith Park. The big house long the home of the McMillan family, is to be moved to a corner on the boulevard just purchased. On the estate will be built a magnificent mission-style residence. It will rival in beauty, perhaps, the palatial home "Castle Mirador" and the grounds of that vicinity, and the show place of the valley.

OCTOGENARIAN DIES.

A grandson, Mr. Witte, will take the body to the former home in Iowa tomorrow night for interment.
